Biography:

Kevin Beyer, a German interdisciplinary artist, started dancing at age five, exploring ballroom and later transitioning to musical theater. He then became a professional contemporary dancer after studying at Codarts Hogeschool voor de Kunsten in Rotterdam.

Joining the esteemed Dresden Frankfurt Dance Company during his third year of study, Kevin danced as a Soloist under the direction of Jacopo Godani for five years. He recently began his freelance career in summer 2023.

Kevin's artistry embraces organic fluidity, deconstruction, complexity, and prismatic elements. He believes in the transformative potential of the moving body, transcending matter into celestial forms and dissolving the human figure into limitless space.

Identifying with an "in-between" gender body, Kevin sees it as a versatile medium symbolizing liberation from the physical realm — a creature through which time can travel.
